Patient/Physician Philosophy:

The greatest reward of being an Otolaryngologist in Seattle these many years is my ability to help people improve their quality of life by dealing with the sometimes devastating & debilitating effects of allergies & sinus infections. In 27 years of practice, I've listened & learned to understand that while the conditions I treat may be similar, each patient is unique. That's why I make sure to treat each person from the evaluation phase through the entire treatment plan, with a renewed interest & open mind.
